The Blue Bell Lime and Stone company, which operates along the Plymouth railroad in Whitemarsh township, is making regular shipments of limestone. In fact business all along the Plymouth branch has been increasing of late, with the largest percentage of increase in the shipments of lime for land fertilization uses.

The blizzard of this week has delayed the progress of the work on the Cold Point grange property, at Hickorytown, which work was the remodeling of the stone stables in the rear of the former hotel into a hall for meeting purposes. The floor is cemented, and the walls will be repaired and the front entrance changed and improved. Later on the second floor will be remodeled. The grange will hold its meetings on the first floor as soon as the building is ready. The remainder of the property will then be for sale.

The Plymouth township school board, having practically decided on the site at Black Horse for its proposed six-room school building, may be obliged to secure title to the tract by condemnation proceedings, which procedure is entirely within its legal rights. About an acre of ground will be needed, and plans for the proposed structure are also about agreed upon and decided, provided the six-room building can be erected for the figures decided upon by the board. At Ivy Rock the board has also about decided to build two additional rooms on the west side of the present structure, with a hallway between, so that the building there will be a completed structure. With the added quarters for pupils there the board will save a considerable sum in transportation over what would be required to convey pupils to the Plymouth Consolidated school. About 80 pupils are thus to be accommodated.

Knights of the Golden Eagle have organized a side degree called the Hermits, and some 40 eagles will be transformed into Hermits on February 26th at the Eagle lodge room in Norristown. Several of the 40 will be members from the oldge in Cold Point.

Barney McCardle, of near Plymouth Meeting, who has been in Montgomery hospital suffering with congestion of the lungs, is improving slowly.

Thomas Dawalt, of New York city, has been the guest of his mother, who resides in one of the Lavino houses.

A frame barn on the Powick estate, Hickorytown, was destroyed by fire one afternoon last week, and despite assistance from the Plymouth, Norristown and Norriton fire companies and neighbors the building was soon consumed. It is belived the blaze was caused by boys or tramps smoking in the structure.

An interesting meeting of the Parent and Teachers' association was held in the Plymouth Consolidated school on Tuesday afternoon, which it is assured will develop into a great factor for good in the township's educational system, as the cooperation of parents and teachers will be of vast benefit to the pupils. In connection with the meeting the Seventh grade pupils most creditably presented a pageant on the celebration of the 300 years since the landing of the Pilgrims. The Eighth grade pupils will give an entainment in the school auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings when they will present Shakespeare's comedy, "The Merchant of Venice."

The sewing circle of Cold Point grange met at Mrs. John Stout's on Wednesday afternoon.

On Friday a cake and baking sale, under the auspices of the Cold Point grange will be held in the borough market, Norristown.

A very delightful surprise was tendered Milton R. Marple at his home, Buttonwood farm, Hickorytown, on Tuesday evening in honor of his birthday. LANSDALE'S MEMORIAL.

Plans Prepared by Harrisburg Department.

Complete and Well Equipped Athletic Park Playgrounds, Ball Field, Etc.,—Will Close Several Streets— Splendid Outline.

Completed plans for the development of the proposed memorial park at Lansdale have been turned over to the local authorities by Karl B. Lohmann, a landscape architect in the bureau of municipalities of the Pennsylvania department of internal affairs, at Harrisburg.

The plans were prepared by the department of internal affairs after a comprehensive study had been made of the tract of land provided for park and playground purposes. The tract is located in the southern end of the borough and extends from Main street to Penn street. The plans call for the closing of Jenkins street from Line street to the park area and at this point an entrance to the park is provided for. The main entrance will be located on Main street near Line and other entrances are also planned. The park plan in itself is worked out in such detail as to provide for a quarter mile running track, base ball field, foot ball and hockey field, etc., tennis courts and separate playgrounds for boys and girls. Open stretches for lawns are also included in the scheme and the develpoment would permit of the construction of a community building in the park at any time one would be decided upon.

The quarter mile running track, according to the plans is to be built directly in front of the present grand stand and bleachers, which have occupied the plot for sometime. Inside the running track will be the foot ball field and baseball diamond. At the south western corner of the plot and extending half way to Main Street will be the playgrounds. The play area for the boys will contain gymnasium apparatus, giant strides, slides, etc., while on the girls side will be tether ball, swings, merry-go-round, traveling rings, slides, baby swings and other equipment also for the very small children. In both the area for the girls and the area for the boys will be basket ball equipment. In the same section of the field four tennis courts are provided for. To the points of interest in the park area, paths will lead from the various entrances. They will wind about in such away as to make the play grounds of easy access and at the same time provide a place for persons who just desire a stroll through the park area.

The tire scheme for development is worked out in such a way that the actual development may be made to cover a period of years if the local authorities find they are unable to complete the work at one time with the funds which are available. In the report from the Department of Internal Affairs which accompanies the plans, it is suggested that work might be started along Main Street and that planting might be done there so that an immediate showing could be made. Paths might be constructed and the vegitation for that section be put in place this year. This work could be followed by theg rading of the running track, tennis courts and play grounds, the establishment of other paths and the planting of nursery stock.

The plans submitted to the Lansdale authorities include one showing the grading necessary, another showing the planting required and a third, in water color, showing how the park should appear upon completion. In adition a list of plants and shrubbery necessary is included in the work of the department turned over to Lansdale.

Under the provision of an act of legislature, the Pennsylvania department of internal affairs is authorized to provide plans for park development and other municipal work when application is made to it by the proper local authorities. Lansdale, like many other communities, has taken advantage of the legislative act and permitted the department of internal affairs to help in working out its local needs. Under the provision of the act the planning work is done at no cost to the municipality.

SPRINGHOUSE.

Mrs. Grover L. Rorer, of Coachella, Calf., sent several boxes of dates to her friends here last week. The dates are grown in the section where Mrs. Rorer resides, and they are of a delicious quality. Mrs. Rorer expects to visit her home here during the month of June.

Some action should be taken by the authorities to curb the reckless running of automobiles through our village. The automobilists disregard the speed law and give no warning whatever as they approach the dangerous turns in the roads. Last week four accidents were only avoided by heroic efforts being used in checking the speed of the cars. One of the four automobilists checked his car so suddenly that it tore off the rear tire. Another noticable feature that is being questioned is why boys between the ages 10 and 12 years of age are allowed to operate automobiles.

Many of our farmers have completed their spring plowing, because of the mild weather. The farmers say this will enable them to do with less help, and when spring opens up they can go ahead with other work on the farm. the use of the tractor, with other improved machinery, also helps the farmers to do with less help, and accomplish more in a shorter time than they formerly could with extra help. With this encouragement the farmers are making preparations to raise large crops this year by seeding all their available land. The farmer should be encouraged in every way possible, for much depends on his production with regard to the high cost of living.

Willow Grove to Have War Memorial.

An energetic campaign is under way to build a $75,000 community hall war memorial at Willow Grove.. The sum of $6500 has been subscribed already. Residents of the Second district met recently in the school house at Davisville and decided to obtain subscriptions by issuing 7500 shares at $10 each. Each subscriber will receive a handsomely engraved honor certificate telling the number of shares taken.

A desirable site for the community hall is now under consideration by the committee in charge. It will be submitted for approval at a later public meeting.

Some time ago it was planned to erect a monument as a memorial to the soldiers and sailor of the world war. As the matter progressed it was decided that a community hall would be more fitting memorial and one for which there is an imperative need at Willow Grove. The proposed building will have a large auditorium and stage, several lodge rooms and a special room for the American Legion. There will be stores on the first floor. Provision also will be made for the postoffice and bank. In the basement will be a gymnasium.

Those elected to the building committee at a meeting were William E. Cooper, chairman; Arthur Shipton, treasurer; W. A. Flounders, secretary; J. Dyre Moyer, R. J. Walther, John Schull, the Rev. E. J. Curran, W. L. Kentner, Cornelius Corson, Joseph Lenning, Dr. Charles F. Cornelius and George Fritz.

To aid in the work of collecting the funds the district has been divided into sections. A captain and a team have been assigned to each section to solicit subscriptions. With exery expectation of "going over the top," the committee has arranged to have a clock in each section which daily will register the amount subschibed.

—Samuel L. Althouse, of Sellersville has received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Cornell. He was one of the several hundred students who were delayed by the war in receiving their degrees.

TEACHER AND PARENT TO MEET

Community Meeting in Ambler Next Tuesday Evening.

Separate Organizations to Be Formed Later for Fort Washington and Upper Dublin—Cooperation and Progress the Keynote.

Ambler is at last ready to swing into line with one of the greatest educational movements of the age, and to that end, a community meeting has been called for Tuesday evening, Mar. 1, in Town Hall, for the purpose of organizing a Parent-Teacher Association, or rather three associations, for there are to be separate organizations for Upper Dublin and Fort Washington.

In every school in the borough and township this week, the teachers will put upon the blackboard an urgent invitation to fathers and mothers to attend the community meeting, explainly briefly the plans and purposes back of it. Every pupil will be required to copy this invitation, carry it home and bring it back again signed by a parent as evidence that it has been received and read.

The Rev. Ralph L. Mayberry will preside at the public meeting, and the principal speaker will be Mrs. W. E. Greenwood, of Coatesville, treasurer of the Pennsylvania State Parent-Teacher association. The Rev. Nathaniel B. Groton, rector of St. Thomas' Church, Whitemarsh, who has long been interested in this work, has been invited to make a few remarks, and opportunity will be given for expressions of opinion by parents and teachers in the audience.

It would be difficult to cite an instance of more phenomenal growth and stupendous influence suddenly acquired than this movement originated in 1897 by the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers associations.

The founders were Mrs. Theodore W. Birney and Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst. Mrs. Frederick Schoff, of Philadelphia, is now the national president. From first, the most prominent men and women in the country, recognizing the wonderful power for good wrapped up in a scheme of bringing closer together the school and the home, have been affiliated with the association. As early as 1902, Theodore Roosevelt accepted a place on the advisory council and until his death was deeply interested in the work.

Forty-one states have branches for the supervision of their own local organizations. Pennsylvania joined in 1899, and there are at the present time 58 communities in this state which have Parent-Teacher associations.

A year or more ago, women who are active in the civic life of Ambler beban to urge the organization of an association here, but such things move slowly. At first, the thought was to have one association for Ambler and vicinity, but it was decided that this is impracticable because of the differences in school methods and conditions generally in the borough and in the township.

Then the idea of three associations, each under its own heat, light and power, was hit upon and the obstacles which had previously seemed insurmountable, began to melt away.

J. M. Fisher, superintendent of schools, has been appointed temporary chairman for Ambler. Mrs. Thomas Atkinson, of Ambler Highlands, will occupy the same position for Upper Dublin township, and Mrs. Warren J. Chandler will be the teporary chairman for Fort Washington.

These three chairman will call separate meetings after the general meeting on March 1, when the proposition will be minutely described and the plan of action outlined.

It is believed that before the present school term ends, each of the three associations will be in full operation.

While programs and methods vary somewhat in different localities, the general procedure is to hold one meeting a month. Sometimes they are in the afternoon with only the mothers and teachers present. Sometimes they are in the evening with the fathers out, too. Each association determines these matters to suit itself and community conditions. Usually there is an especially-invited speaker who discusses an educational topic of general interest, but the prime object is to enable the teacher to learn to know the parents, and the parents to learn to know the teacher.

It is argued that if the two women who mold the character and guide the mind of the child during all its waking hours, can be brought to a mutual understanding which will lead to hearty co-operation, the chances of developing the right kind of man or woman out of that child are just twice as good as when the two are working at cross purposes.

When Jack or Mary comes home late for supper and says, "That mean old teacher made me stay in late for nothing," or when Sally pipes up pertly to the teacher, "I know that isn't right because my Mamma said so," strained relations between the two natural guardians of the child are not nearly so likely to develop if they meet once a month and iron out their differences

Particular emphasis is laid upon the fact that fathers, as well as mothers, are wanted as the initial meeting next Tuesday evening.

IMPRESSIONS OF A WOMAN JUROR.

Mrs. T. Duncan Just Writes After a Week in Court Service.

Criminal Court in Session and Its Machinery in Motion—Value of the Jury System—Commendation for Arrangements.

"Oh yea! Oh yea! Oh yea! All persons having business to come before the Honorable, the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, and the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Montgomery, here holden this day, let them come forward and they shall be heard. God save the Commonwealth and this Honorable Court."

Sonorously and rather weirdly the words were chanted, by Court Crier Daniel Charles, and the Court was in session. Where a mement before was seeming confusion and varied discourse, there at once became respectful, almost solemn, quietness. Whatever of levity was in the mind, was at once dispelled when the president judge announced the opening of court.

With the calling of the first case, the juror's interest becomes at once absorbed in the functioning of the whole machinery of the court, what seemed at first to be an unweildy, hetergeneous mass of stenographers, clerks, lawyers, and other court officers at once assumed the proportions of a smoothly running machine, with each filling his proper place therein.

As the jurors' names are called, and they file into the box," the defendant actually becomes for the moment, eclipsed, by the exercise of wits between the attorneys for the prosecution and defense, as each studies, oh so intently, the personality of each juror, balancing every little point which might benefit his respective side of the case. No matter how poor the defendant, each and everyone has the advantage of an attorney's services; for in case of being unable to employ one, the judge immediately assigns one to the case, from among the lawyers present. I may add, to the credit of the lawyers so chosen that each one seemed just as zealous for his indigent client, as though his fee was of the highest.

With the preliminaries settled, the taking of evidence begins. There is sorrow aplenty, for the tragedy of life was and is, brought forth in all nakedness, yet withal, there is an admixture of humor—pathetic humor—as to hold one's unfailing interest. Truly, after once being a participant in the court procedure, there never can be other, than respect and reverence for our method of administering justice, as at present evolved.

As I observed case after case, during the week, my mind was constantly reverting to Longfellow's poem—"The Bridge," depicting, as they did, so many and varied aspects of human life and frailties.

I was deeply impressed with the great dignity of the whole court procedure: At no time was, there a moment when any attorney or other court attendant departed from the almost ritual-like respect for the court and all its functions, all of which is as it should be.

The value of the jury system, which provides twelve members, taken from almost every walk of life, is every appartment. Evidence is given from different viewpoints, and must be considered from different viewpoints in the jury room, it this seems well, that the layman's mind (free from the technicalities of legal lore) is left to make the final decision from the evidence taken, bearing ever in mind the value of the judge's charge.

As a woman, and as a juror, I cannot speak too highly of the respect and attention shown us by the entire court and its attendants. The innovation of women tipstaves, contributed much to the convenience of the woman juror. Neither do I fail to appreciate my fellow jurors. From the inception of the work until the finish they gave earnest attention and consistent effort to fulfill the duty to which they were called.

The strongest impressions were that black was called black, and white was called white, but ... bizarre the case or the evidence, there was ever present a respecful consideration, the words delivered with forceful, yet kindly dignity leaving no room for doubt in the minds of the jurors, of the necessity for their presence, nor yet of the importance of their duty to the Commonwealth.

No woman need be fearful of fulfilling her duty as a juror in the courts of Montgomery county.

Landis, Souderton; Miss Marion Reifsnyder, Pottstown; Maude Sagebeer, Conshohocken ;Cora Funk, Palm; Katherine Weida, Frederick and Leon Bell, Norristown.

The budget was discussed and it was finally decided to opportion it according to the members of the individual societies and local unions.

Christian Endeavor in Montgomery county is progressing rapidly under the able leadership of President Greene. A convention has been planned, to be held in Pottstown in May. A committee, composed of George W. Stewart, chairman, and A. F. Landis, Elmer Graber, E. R. Simons and B. F. Greene, is working upon this at present.

There were five new societies reported, with prospects of many more.

Many societies and branch unions celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the founding of Christian Endeavor during the past week.

County Is to Get Another Legislator.

Montgomery county will gain one member in the assembly, according to the new apportionment figures, thereby increasing the county's representation in the next legislature from four to five.

The new apportionment figures based on the 1920 Federal census, entitles each county to one representative for each 43,000 inhabitants, according to an announcement from Harrisburg. The old representation figures were one representative for 31,511.

With Montgomery county's population having passed the 200,000 mark for 1920, which is more than four and one-half times the new apportionment figure she is entitled to another representative.

The new legislative district maps are now being prepared, the new arrangement being based on the population of the various town and townships adjacent to each other. Just how the new order will effect present districts can not be told at this time.

The change will become effective with the elections in the fall of next year when the new Assemblymen will be chosen.

Inasmuch as the population of Norristown is less than the apportionment figures of 43,000. the borough will not become a separate district.

Wheat not Essential for Poultry Flock

Poultry-feeding experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, last fiscal year, show that practically as good results can be obtained without wheat as with it in a ration. The Rhode Island Reds, in the wheatless pen, averaged 140 eggs, while those in the pen receiving wheat averaged 134 eggs. Good result were obtained with the use of garbage until the warm weather began, when there was considerable mortality, due apparently to the garbage spoiling This work is being repeated this year with much more satisfactory results, the garbage being fed in a trough on a large wooden feeding board which prevents it from getting on the ground and decaying.

In the use of vegetables proteins the relative order of production is the same as it was last year. No success has followed an attempt to substitute completly vegetable protein for animal protein. The ration used last year, a mash containing only 15 per cent. meat scrap as compared with 20 to 25 per cent. In the ordinary mashes, gave very satisfactory results with the heavier breeds, especially the Plymouth Rocks in keeping the birds in good physical condition and fertility, through the egg yield was not quite so good as when the higher per cent. of meat scrap was used.

New experiments were begun during the year with green feeds, comparing alfalfa meal with sprouted oats and comparing these rations with one in when vegetables wer supplied, while none of these green feeds have shown marked increased production over any other, the results have emphasized the importance and value of that form of food when given in a variety.

Make Weed-Less Lawns.

Discovery of long-sought fertilizer that will grow grass and kill weeds is announced by the experiment station of Rhode Island State College as the result of 20 years of research. The realization of the dream of gardeners the world over-a weedless lawn—is possible, without trouble or expense, according to the official college statement, merely by the use of ammonium sulphate instead of nitrate of soda in the annual application of fertilizer. Slowly but surely the weeds will disappear and the lawn will become the even, velvety green that is the envy of every neighbor.

"Gardeners have almost universally advised supply nitrogen, the chief element in the present food of grass, in the form of nitrate of soda," says the statement. "This gradually tends to create an acidine condition of the soil, which is especially favorable to the growth of weeds. Soon the grass is crowded out and the lawn has an uneven appearance.

"By using ammonium sulphate, which is not more expensive, in the same quantities as the nitrate of soda, the required amount of nitrogen is furnished and the soil kept in the said condition under which the grass develops best, but the weeds are so weakened that they are crowded out."

Country Home Looted.

The handsome country residence of A. C. Mott, outside of Lansdale, was entered by burglars and ransacked.

The Motts are away for the winter, and the caretaker found the big mansion upset when he visited there.

Mr. Mott is superintendent of the Cox Stove Foundry. The amount of loot is not yet determined.

The Plead-Guilty Court.

Horace Reeves, of Lnsdale, and Jake Dice, of Schwenksville, broke into the garage of Clyde S. Walton, on the speedway, and stole tires and tubes to the value of $50. Reeves was sentenced by Judge Miller to the Huntingdon Reformatory and Dice given 9 months in the county jail, his sentenced dating from December 22, the date of his commitment.

Earl Carlson who gave his age as 17, was sentenced to two years imprisonment for his part in robbing the Erdenheim station, in January. Carlson's home is in Massachusettes, but he said he had traveled all over the middle West, in search of work. Carlson was a lookout for another man engaged in breaking slot machines at the trolley station, after giving the alarm to his pal. The confederate escaped.

John oCllins, 34, and colored, was sentenced to 9 months in jail on charge of larceny. John's penchant for chicken got him into trouble. He was caught on a trolley car in abington township, with a suit case filled with chickens, which had been prepared for market. This was at 2.30 in the morning. The fowl were property of Charles. S. Paxon, a farmer of Dresher, for whom Collins worked at times.

Thieves at Perkasie.

While attending services in Bethel Evangelical church, Perkasie, on a recent Sunday evening, thieves entered the home of Ellis Moyer by forcing a window and after carefully lowering the shades of every window, ransacked every drawer in the house. A gold watch and chain, bracelet, several rings, brooch, and small amount of cash were stolen. Two pair of tracks in the back yard showed that there were two engaged in the job

Slump in Realty Transactions.

The decrease in the realty transactions in Montgomery county, at this period as compared to that of the early part of the last year, is indicated in the drop of the number of deeds which have been placed on record of the office of the Recorder of Deeds of this county.

During December last, but 535 deeds were recorded, as compared to 777 during November last and 730 during October. The high mark in reality transactions in one month reached 1184.

During January this year the number of deeds recorded totalled 562.

Actions as filed With Pronthonotary.

Action were brought recently in the office of the Pronthotary as follows:

By Attorneys Evans, High, Dettra and Swartz, in behalf of B. O. and Robert Chalfont against F. P. Gravelle to recover $1236, balance alleged to be due on bill for three motor truck bodies.

By Attorney Monroe H. Anders, in behalf of Sears, Roebuck and company against George Wison to recover phonograph and records valued at $140.

By Attorney E. L. Hallman, an appeal from the judgement of Magistrate E. M. Harry, of Norristown, in a suit brough by H. Belfield company against G. E. Brownback to recover $240 for merchandise furnished. Judgment for the amount of the claim was entered by the magistrate, and it is from this decree that the appeal is taken.

Montg. Co. League Will Have Six Clubs

Six clubs and not eight as proposed will compose the Montgomery County Baseball league this season. This was decided at a recent meeting of the officials of the club at the Hotel Tremont, in Lansdale.

The clubs, the same as last year will be Doylestown, Lansdale, Souderton, Ambler, Fort Washington and Chestnut Hill. A schedule for the season is being prepared by the schedule committee of which Clarence Lownes, of Lansdale, is chairman. It will be presented at a meeting at the home of Charles A. B. Hetzell, at Fort Washington, next Thursday night, February 17. It is proposed to carry out the same schedule with tentative plans to reverse the home games of last year's schedule.

Nothing else of importance was done, with the exception of several heated discussions over various topics concerning the welfare of the circuit. One discussion was the admittance of Perkasie and Conshohocken. These propositions, however, were turned down.

To Safeguard Banks.

Radical changes in the handling of State funds and legislation prompted by the failure of the North Penn bank, a state institution, and the jugglery of trust funds in another Philadelphia financial institution have been proposed by Auditor General-elect Samuel E. Lewis in a speech before the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association.

To meet the danger of a single person having control of trust funds in any financial institution, as was the case in the Toomey embezzlement in Philadelphia, Mr. Lewis has drafted a bill making it mandatory upon all institutions handling trust securities to have at least two officers of the bank or trust company designated to handle or transfer these securities or funds, and that no individual officer or the institution can have access thereto, but that there must be at least two officers of the institution handling such funds."

Married for Fifty-Seven Years.

A romance of the Civil War, when the bridegroom secured a special furlough to come home and claim his bride, was recalled on Feb. 14, when Mr. and Mrs. John S. Jefferies, of Church street, Norristown, passed their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary. Jefferies, who for some years has been crier of the Montgomery county courts, is confined to his home by illness. Mrs. Jefferies is also ill, and as a result of these regretted conditions no formal celebration was held in honor of the rare occasion. The war wedding was solemnized in the Norristown St. John's Episcopal rectory. The bridegroom was a corporal in the 95th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers.

The United States postal department is trying to locate the "Laura," whose name appeared on a card found among the personal effects of Harry Meadmon, of the 58th Supply company. The card in question was postmarked Ambler, and Postmaster Gusman has been making a search for their individual in order to identify Meadmon.

On Thursday evening the combined musical clubs of Lafayette college presented a very fine program in the Ambler opera house under the auspices of the Norton Downs, Jr., Post No. 125, American Legion. Every seat was sold in advance, and after the event the young men were tendered a reception in the K. and M. hall, followed by dancing. The members of the musical clubs were then entertained in Ambler families over night.

An enjoyable surprise party was tendered Miss Anna Smith at her home, on Lindenwold farms, Saturday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. More than 30 guests were present and spent an enjoyable evening. Miss Smith was the receipient of many beautiful gifts, and an added enjoyable feature and which came as a pleasant surprise to the guests present was the announcement by her uncle, Stephen Smith, of the engagement of Miss Smith to Mr. Millon Parsons of Penllyn.

The heavy snow of Sunday and Monday morning filled the roads, and some were drifted badly. Samuel Hand who carries the mail to Doylestown, experienced heavy traveling with the deep snow, and above Prospectville his Ford car gave out. He secured the loan of a horse and sleigh and finished the trip to the Bucks county seat. John Preston, who conveys the mail to Blue Bell, succeeded in pushing through, although the roads were very heavy.

A men's mass meeting in the Ambler opera house Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Boys under 16 years of age not admitted. Rev C. L. Oswald, D. D., of Philadelphia, will address the meeting on the subject "Buckshot For Dogs." Good singing, male chorus, orchestra. This is an apportunity for every man in town and nearby to hear a most forceful and persuasive speaker. Dr. Oswald speaks out straight from the shoulder. A spade is a spade with him. Go and hear what he has to say, and join in the singing.

On Friday evening, March 2, at 7 o'clock in the town hall will open the chart for the reserved seat tickets for the minstrel show of the Wissahickon Fire company to be presented ni Ambler opera house on March 9 and 10. The sale of advance tickets is very encouraging to the boys and the rehearsals guarantee a show of exceptional merit surpassing the initial effort of a year ago. Our reporter was accorded the rare privilege, a night or two ago, of a peek into a rehearsal, and he gives every assurance that the program is a thriller all the way through and especially the presentation of the sacred comedy, wherein the boys strive to answer the much mooted question, "Which Is the True Methodist Church —the Ambler Presbyterian or the Mt. Pleasant Baptist?" Yea, Bo, it's a thriller. Then, there is the sketch by the Ford Brothers—Henry, of Detroit and Richard S., of Ambler in the "Profiteer and Privateer, We Get 'em at Both Ends," but enough, you must secure your tickets to learn the remainder of the program. Tickets are selling rapidly. Secure yours, for the early birds catch the best seats.

The prosecutor withdrawing the charge at the last minute, probably saved Margaret Bernett of Collingswood, New Jersey; Mary Belton, of Ber of the Independet Order of Richs street, and Fred Morinelli, Jr., all of Philadelphia, from a term in prison. The girls with their male escorts were arrested at a nearby hotel by Corporal Hanes, of the local state police, late Friday night. They were placed in the borough lock-up over night and were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Urban Saturday morning, when it was learned that the quartet spent the early part of the night at the hostelry, to which they had motored from the city. Later when they left they took with them a blanket belonging to Frank W. Lockwood, of Roxborough, valued at $35. The young women, who gave their ages as 19 and 21, stated that they were waitresses in a restaurant near Front and Arch streets, Philadelphia, and the men, one of whom are married, informed the police that they are in the produce business on Dock street. Both girls were turned over to the Mrs. F. C. Leute, of the local Red Cross, for further investigation, while the men were discharged after paying the cost of prosecution. This was one of the many cases that proved the wonderful efficiency of the state police and also the sterling charcter of the men representing the same. It has been learned since the arrest of the above young people that Hanes was approached by one of the men and offered a sum of money to liberate them. Later a diamond ring was placed in the hand of the officer as further evidence that they were willing to pay if allowed to depart. As a reply, Corporal Hanes, after lecturing the men for trying to bribe an officer, ordered all four to dress and accompany him to the lock-up.

Our firemen, under the supervision of Fire Chief Wm. Paynel and Charles E. Wade, of the North Penn Motor Co., gave the new fire engine the official capacity test on Friday afternoon at a mill dam in Towamencin and later in the presence of a large number of residents at a fire plug at Walnut street and Railroad avenue. The test proved highly satisfactory at both places and were the same as on a previous test as a comparison it was found on a trial test that the machine will throw a stream nearly twice as high as the steel flag pole on the plaza, while from our reservoir pressure only the height attained was only as high as the pole. On Saturday the department was called out to an alarm from the home of the late Christian Buck, on West Walnut street, but before the apparatus was put into service a bucket brigade had extinguished the fire which was caused by an overheated range in the kitchen.

By removing the splinter and resetting the fretures. The surgeons expect to have him fully recover the use of his limbs. He is a native of Oklahoma.

Women Should be All-Around Jurors.

Mrs. Minnie S. Just, of Upper Dublin township, near Ambler believes that women should be all-around jurors, or not at all. Mrs. Just resents a challenge because of sex, and was one of five women who refused to take advantage of the privilege of retiring from a jury sitting in a rape case.

"Woman fought lang and hard for the right to vote, and now they should not expect or demand discrimination of any kind," she told a reporter recently. "I think we should be treated exactly as men are treated on duty, and I intend to take the bad along with the good."

Jurors are Thanked.

Judge William F. Solly was well pleased with the record of the women jurors at last week's sessions of criminal court.

In discharging the last jury before him. Judge Solly took occasion to praise their work, although he did not refer specifically to the members of the gentle sex.

"I want to say for myself and my colleagues on the bench, that you have discharged your duties with fidelity, intelligence and a full conception of the cases and the law as given by the court," he said.

"It is a great pleasure to say this to jurors when they have displayed intelligence in rendering verdicts. You are discharged with the thanks of the court."

Grand Jury Ignores Two Bills.

The grand jury ignored the bill which charged Joseph Shrawder, of Orvilla, with assault and battery, based on a attack upon his wife. The bill was disposed of with the understanding that Schrawder, who was at one time in an institution, is to be placed under close observation as to his mental state. Thef amily holds that he was not mentally responsible at the time of the attack.

The costs were placed on the county in the assault and battery action against Oliver Smith and Bernard L. Tarbox, inwhich the bill was ignored by the grand jury. The action was based on a injury sustained by David Robinson in a collision of autos an Lancaster avenue.

Axe Wielder Pays and Escapes Jail.

Salvatrecia Mostomorinio, the Black Horse woman, who was convicted, by a mixed jury, before Judge Miller, of assault and battery upon John Solomone, whom she attacked with an axe in defending her husband, escaped a term in jail, when she and her husband agreed to the alternative of paying a substantial fine and the cold. Judge Miller gave the parties ample time to determine the matter.

A sentence of $200 and costs were imposed by the court, and the woman, was placed in the hands of the sheriff, pending the payments of the whole bill. The costs amounted to $38.32. It was paid and the woman was released.

In this instance the court was loath to send the mother of four small children to jail.

The woman appears to be firmly of the opinion that it is just as much her right to defend her husband, when he is at a disadvantage, as it was his duty to look after her welfare. Only her poor aim with the axe, it is stated, averted a tragedy.

Much interest is being manifested in the new literary society organized among the colored residents of Ambler and vicinity, which meets weekly in North street hall. Considerable credit should be given Robert E. Brown, Rev. F. T. Holden, Joshua Thompson and others for fostering this movement to broaden the mnds of their people, and at the same time provide a place where the young colored people may congregate for advancement and learning. However, to J. W. Foster, editor of the Suburban Herald, full credit is given, as it is his suggestion that is being carried out. The officers of the society are: Robert E. Brown, president, Joshua Thompson, vice president; J. D. Ford, secretary; John Bailey, treasurer, Several interesting debates have already ben held and more are to follow. Splendid reading matter has been provided through the kindness of a number of white friends. No dues are charged, as every effort is exerted to make the society as attractive as possible for the young people. Later it is planned to assist backward colored pupils of our schools in an effort to advance their interest by personal application.

Gas Co. Backs Down.

The Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric company has notified the public service commission at Harrisburg, that it will pay back "over-charges" for November, said to amount to thousands of dollars, to its consumers in the Jenkintown district.

The company admits that it "erred" in the calculation of gas bills for November when the new rates became effective. Backingdown from its defiant attitude toward consumers, who had complained of the gouge when they received their November bills, the company has confessed that it charged two maximum rates for that month, and that it did not read the meters for an accurate apportionment of the gas consumed.

P. O. S. OF A. IN AMBLER.

County Convention Held on Washington's Birthday.

Enthusiastic Gathering Well Attended —Monument to Be Erected to the Late R. T. S. Hallowell, of Conshohocken—Next Meeting at Royersford.

That the members of the Patriotic Order Sons of America will strive for greater patriotism and for its teaching in our public schools and the principles for which Americanism stands be adhered to more strictly in the future by public officials, was the keynote of the addresses before the delegates assembled in the annual convention of the above order on Tuesday afternoon. The convention was held in Malta hall, Ambler, and was attended by almost 100 delegates, the weather conditions being responsible for keeping many at home. Nevertheless it was voted to be one of the most enthusiastic conventions ever held by the county organization.

Delegates from 18 camps were present besides the present and past officials. The convention represents a membership of 5248, and it is the aim and object to every camp that this number be greatly increased before the session of 1921.

President George M. S. Light opened the convention, and after the reading of Scripture and prayer the greater part of the morning sesion was taken up by the calling of the roll and the reports of the various committees and the address of the president.

Much important business was transacted at the afternoon session. Favorable action was taken looking towards the monument to be placed over the grave of the late R. T. S. Hallowell, of Conshohocken, who had been a member of the order for a period of 40 years and state president during the year 1888. The deceased established a record that has never equalled while being state president by establishing more new camps than any other president. The funds for the monument will be raised by popular subscription, and the plans for the marker are to be completed by the next session. The president's salary was increased to $50 and a per capita tax of 2 cents was agreed upon to meet the increase. Five resolutions were reported out by the committee, four of which were adopted while one was defeated with much regret by a number of the delegates. Resolution No. 1, as reported out by the committee, was as follows: Whereas, a daily newspaper, The Philadelphia North American has and is presenting to its readers the value of the Sabbath school as opposed to Bolshevism, we the representatives of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, of Montgomery County, do hereby commend the said newspaper for its action and that this body stands firm in the belief that Chistianity and public education are the backbone for our nation." The adoption of this resolution marked an enthusiastic outburst by the delegates. The defeat of resolution No. 2, was a disappointment to the delegates looking towards raising the standard of the degree work and increasing its efficiency. The resolution proposed that all officials learn the obligation verbatim before being eligible to office, also during the initiatory work that the members of the team appear in evening dress. The older members of the order present as delegates led the fight against this resolution, which was defeated by two votes.

Resolution No. 3, proposing a monument to the late past president, R. T. S. Hallowell, went through without a dissenting vote. However, it was agreed to strike out the last part requesting aid from the state camp. Resolutions Nos. 4 and 5 were of minor importance and were passed without comment.

The committee reported favorably on the county president address, and it was agreed to take up the recomendations in their order. Among the recomendations adopted were the following: That the camps of the county prepare a fund for the purpose of awarding medals to the pupils of their respective high schools for the best essay on Americanism and of America's history. All camps that are not as progressive as they might be are to be looked after by the nearest camp, which is to lend a helping hand. Every school room in the public schools of our county to be provided with an American flag. The recommendation to change the date of the county convention from Washington's birthday to the first Saturday afternoon in August, and that the sessions be held afternoon and evening instead of morning on the reccomendation to increase the initiation fee to $5.

Addresses were delivered by the following members: Rev. Ralph L. Mayberry, William Campbell, Vincent Pohle and Harry Renninger. The election of officers was held and resulted as follows: President, N. P. Wilson, Camp No. 51; vice president Ackerman, Camp No. 331; master of forms, Earl Straube, Camp No. 641; secretary John Sherman, Camp No. 502, assistant secretary, John N. Smale, Camp No. 92; treasurer, Orion Swehart, Camp No. 641; The delegates considered two places for the next county convention. Camp 92, of Pottstown and Camp No. 325, of Royersford, both having been nominated. However, the latter place was selected for the convention of 1922.

.... Seeking Auto Thieves..

The state police are seeking the would-be auto thives who attacked, bound and gagged Mrs. Robre Ewing, of Limerick township above Trappe, Wednesday evening, Feb. 16, when she intercepted two men as they were about to take away from the Ewing barn a Mitchell car. The woman is suffering greatly from the shock sustained in her struggle with her asailants, and her arms and wrist bear the marks of the drawn cord with which she was bound and rendered helpless.

Mrs. Ewing's attetion was drawn to the barn about 6.30. She observed a light in the place and knew her husband, who is an engineer, had not as yet returned from his work. Going to the barn she noticed an open window. She looked in and saw a man about the car, the headlights of which were glowing.

Then, suddenly some one grasped her by the hair and rew her back from the window into the semi-darkness. At the same time her assailant seized her apron and drew it up over her head partly gagging her. Though the woman, who is about 40 years of age, struggled desperately to free herself, she was finally overpowered, a second man coming to the aid of the first She was thrown to the ground and bound with a stout cord. The assailants then fled, without making any further effort towards removing the car.

The woman was found, about an hour later, by her daughter and Mrs. Ewing's mother, who had become uneasy over her long absence from the house. He bonds were cut, and she was removed to the house. A physician was summoned and found her in a highly nervous state.

Mr. Ewing returned home about this time and at once called up the state police headquarters in Pottstown and the officers took up the case.

During the election last fall and just prior thereto there was a discussion at a meeting of the Republican workers. It was a timely suggestion on holding open air concerts by an orchestra and community sings during the coming summer. The subject was brought up by R. V. Big Consumer Stops Using Gas.

The Pool pantaloon factory, of Lansdale one of the largest consumers of gas from the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric Co., will make other arrangements for fuel because the present gas rates are prohibitive. The gas bills of the Pool company have increased nearly 100 per cent.

Irvin H. Pool, president of the company, in speaking of the matter, said: "I am not a fighter. I have little to say. The rate is absolutely prohibitive for me. Because of the rate we simply have to make a change. We cannot afford to continue as we are. Some arrangements will be made whereby fires will be built under the boilers. When I complained to the Philadelphia Suburban about the rates, officials of the company said they were sorry. They said the rate would likely only be temporary. If it is only temporary, it will make little difference. We can't afford to wait."

The Pool pantaloon factory consumed 166,000 cubic feet of gas last month. "We will simply drop out as a gas consumer," Mr. Pool reiterated.

Breaks 50 Straight.

John Rigg broke a straight fifty targets at the monthly shoot of the North End Gun Club over the Conshohocken grounds, which placed him high of the afternoon. C. Roberts was the high gun in Class B event, scoring forty-six breaks but J. E. Killia, the secretary of the Clearview Gun Club, was a close second with forty-five breaks to his tally. W. Hackford scored forty-four in winning the high for Class C. Howard Vandegrift was second in this class with a forty-two score. The 9-year-old son of Secretary Vondegrift broke six out of fifteen targets with a small gauge gun. It was his third time at the traps. W. J. Bysher, Jr., aged 11 years scored thirty-one.

E. L. Elwell, an active member of the Clearview Gun Club, of Philadelphia, was high man in the 100-target match, breaking ninety-one targets. J. E. Killian was in second place with a score of eighty-five breaks.

Lansdale Collects Funds for Gas War.

The borough of Lansdale will be divided into districts for the canvass of funds to fight the proposed new gas rate schedule of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric Company. A committee of ten headed by Frank J. Barndt to superintend the solicitation funds is forming an organization.

Teams will make a house-to-house canvass. Lansdale has sheathed itself in fighting armor and will become one of the active communities in the gas rate fight. This borough promises hand-in-hand co-operation with the Glenside Gas Committee.

A protest petition which will be filed with the Public Service Commission as an intervening petition with original petitions of protest will be circulated by Professor Frank G. Gottshalk, member of the Central High School (Phila.) faculty; Professor W. M. Frantz, of the Lansdale School of dent of the Lansdale Borough Council.

E. R. Ambler Motor Strikes Dr. Peoples.

Struck by an automobile driven by E. Raymond Ambler, of Abington, Dr. Mary E. Peoples, is in the Abington Memorial hospital, suffering severly from shock and from cuts about the face and arms.

Dr. Peoples, who lives at the Young Women's Christian association, at Eighteenth and Arch streets, was crossing the Old York road and Township Line, when she was struck by the automobile. Mr. Ambler took the injured woman to the hospital, and in his report to the police said she seemed bewildered as she started across the street. He was not held.

Mr. Ambler is secretary of the Board of commissioners of Abington township, was formerly postmaster at Abington, and is a brother of Charles E. Ambler, former speaker of the house. His home is on Old York road, at Abington.

Coffer Dam Begun.

The work of building the coffer dam for the west foundation of the new canal bridge at Conshohocken has been started and completion is expected in the next few days.

This dam will be used to keep the water away from the foundation of the side approach of the river bridge which will be begun a short distance above the canal structure. This approach will be used by vehicle drivers desiring to get from the river bridge to the Reading freight and passenger stations; also as an entrance to the factories situated on the Berne bank north of the river bridge.

Outlook for Auto Tires.

John J. Watson, Jr., President of the Lee Tire and Rubber Company, takes a hopeful view of the outlook for the automobile tire industry. Mr. Watson is credited with stating that the United States will require between 28,000,000 and 30,000,000 auto tires during the present year. Mr. Watson's statement in part follows:

"It is estimated that production of automobile tires during the Spring of 1920 exceeded 150,000 a day. The production during November and December of the same year fell to about 35,000 a day, less than the daily production of the larger tire companies during the spring of that year.

"Some of the best authorities estimate that in 1921 there will be produced about 1,000,000 new cars and trucks. Of those now in use, it is probable that from 500,000 to 750,000 will go into the scrap heap this year, sa that the increase in 1921 will probably 500,000. On this basis, the country would require about 4,000,000 tires for new cars and with the 8,000,000 old cars in use it would require approximately 24,000,000 tires to supply renewals."

Doylestown's Share Is $11,911.55.

Doylestown's expense in the building of the new concrete highway through the borough has been estimated to be approximately $11,911.55. The total estimated cost of the road from Main street in the borough of Doylestown to the County Line has been placed at $419,360.25.

Women for Tipstaves.

The Montgomery county court has appointed three women tipstaffs who are to look after the seventeen women jurors. The women appointed tipstaffs are Mrs.. Linnie Unger, Mrs. Coulston.

Only one woman juror asked to be excused. Mrs. Bertha Bromer, of Schwenksville, who has two children and a household to look after, was excused for the week. The two women on the grand jury are Miss Elizabeth Murphy and Miss Mary A. Kiernan, both of Norristown. Miss Murphy was elected secretary of the grand jury. One woman juror who is ill at her home, Mrs. Laura B. Shieve, of Norristown was the only wamon who did not answer to her name.

The court house was "dolled up" for the new jurors. The jury rooms have been renovated, new rugs laid on the floor, and signs against smoking are prominent. In one jury room a dozen jurymen sat under the sign and smoked contentedly. No women being present, the violation was null and void.

District Attorneys and Their Salaries

Former District Attorney Whitehouse, of Schuylkill county, now a member of the legistlature, and who, by reason of his former official post is affected by the question raised relative to the salary or fees of the district attorney, has taken steps looking towards overcoming the conditions relative to the salary of the office in such counties as Montgomery.

In a bill introduced into the legislature, Mr. Whitehouse sets forth the fees which are to apply to the work of the district attorney's office on the various counties where the salary is held not to maintain. He desires to make the public prosecutor's office one with assurance of a substantial income to the occupant.

If the courts finally hold that the salary regulation does not apply to the district attorney of this and counties, much of the work of the office will be without any form of remuneration, either directly or indirectly.

The National Farm School Ready to Admit New Class.

In spite of the request of the federal board of vocational training for the admission of 25 more disabled world war veterans. The National Farm school, Doylestown, was reluctantly forced to call a halt to the ever increasing number of such men who wish to enter the farm school to secure a vocational training that will fit them to take their places in the world of affairs. Already the dormitories of the school are overcrowded with regular students. In originally complying with the request of the federal board, the directors of the school felt it their duty and privilege to cooperate in this work for our returned soldiers, and to admit the men especially fitted for this work so far as the limited capacity of the school permitted, and four that reason fitted out one of the farm houses into a dormitory. But now even this addition has proved inadequate. A new class of regular students is to be admitted this March. The school is obliged to make provision for an entering class of new regular students, and for that reason is regretfully necessitated to limit then umber of federal students to be admitted.

Young men wishing to enter the school for the new term should make application at once. The new term starts March 1, and applicants are being examined now. Any lad with a grammar school education, above 16 years and not over 21, having physical, mental and normal health, and a sincere desire to learn farming, is eligible for admission.

The present business depression throughout the country has also hurt the farmer. He needs well trained men to help him over the period, and has found that competent men are cheaper in the long run than green help. For that reason Farm school graduates have ample opportunity to find employment on farms, during a time when it is estimated that four million men in the United States are out of employment. Conditions are so shaping themselves that farming will continue to be the haven of opportunity for ambitious young men, who like agriculture.

For further information about The National Farm school apply to Mr. Morris A. Kaufmann, chairman of the admissions committee, 407 Victory building, Philadelphia, Pa.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite with the mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough. Its pleasant taste and the prompt cures which it effects has won the good opinion of mothers everywhere. As this remedy contains no opium or other narcotic it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. feb

Victim of Motorcar.

Abram R. Krieble, of Center Point, was struck by an automobile, one afternoon last week at Main and Barbadoes streets, Norristown, and painfully, but, not seriously injured. He was crossing the street when a Dodge touring car, driven by George Morgan, of Jeffersonville, knocked him down.

He was able to go to the office of a physician who found that his elbow was lacarated and his leg painfully bruised.

Effects of Constipation.

Constipation causes a stoppage of the sewerage system of the body. The sewerage system of the body. The poisonous refuse matter that should be carried away is retained in the system and often poisons the blood and causes numerous disorders. No one can afford to neglect his bowels. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will afford relief. Avoid drastic cathartics as they take too much water out of the system and their use is likely to be followed by constipation. feb

New School League.

A high school baseball league, comprising six schools of the North Penn section, was organized at a meeting in Lansdale. The schools in the league are: Lansdale, Doylestown, Jenkintown, Perkasie and Souderton.

The league season will open the latter part of April and will continue until some time in June. Prof. W. S. Kehl, of the Doylestown High school faculty, was elected president and E. Kephart Boughter, of the Lansdale High School faculty, was elected secretary.

A Good Medicine for the Grip.

George W. Waitt, South Gardiner, Me. relates his experience with the grip "I had the worst cough, cold and grip and had taken a lot of trash of no account. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done me any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the cold and grip have left me." feb

By attorneys Evans, High, Dettra and Swartz, in behalf of Sam'l L. Shieveley, to the use of James W. Hunsberger and Frank L. Woodring, trading as the Samuel Schiveley Lumber and Coal Company, of Jenkintown against Frank R. Hill of the Welsh Road to recover $309.58, balance alleged to be due on a bill for lumber.

Miller, of North Wales, in the suit brought by Isadore Ringold, of North Wales, against Richard Humphries, of Gwynedd township, to recover $7 for wages alleged to be due. Judgment was entered for $5. Incidentally, it may be memtioned that the magistrate's costs already involved are several times the amount of the claim. The defendant has appealed from the decree.

The will is the handwriting of the testator on one of the letter heads of his business and was executed February 28, 1903.

Bill for Sheep Cut by County.

Although the county did not succeed in saving the entire sum it dil cut off a large slice of the bill submitted by Thomas J. Brownlie, superintendent of the Allendale Farms, for the murder of five sheep and injury of others by dogs.

For each of the ones killed Brownlie wanted $22.50, and injured, $10, making a total of $182.50.

About the same time, a farmer in another part of the county lost some sheep, and his charge for the dead animals was about one-third the charge of the Allendale Farms. Deputy Controller Irvin investigated the cost of mutton on the heofs and found it selling at from $7 to $10 per 100 pounds.

Pedigree or no pedigree, a dead sheep is a dead one to the county, Brownlie's big bill has been sliced to $90 total, or $7.50 per sheep.

Recently it was found that Brownlie had apparently not complied with the law, in burying the dead animals, but had sent them to the Anderson farm at King of Prussia, to be reduced. The County Commissioners asked their solicitor for an opinion on this matter, and found that the law required burial only to protect the public health.

The opinion says: "It surely is not reasonable to suppose that the legislators intended requiring burial of the carcasses, that carcasses should not be utilized if they had any value.

"The reasonable inference to be drawn from this requirement is that th legislators sought to have the carcasses so disposed of that they would not become putrid and rotten and thus become a nuisance and dangerous to the health of those in the vicinity, and this thought is emphasized by the provision for payment of costs of burial."

Thus the owner of animals killed by dogs may dispose of the carcasses in any manner he sees fit, provided he does so promptly..

Township's Patrol Appointed.

Citizens of East Norristown township have become indignant at the increasing number of robberies and holdups in their midst. At a meeting held at the residence of Adolph Muller, an association for the prosecution of property was formed and sixty men were appointed to patrol the township. A sedan car was stolen from Michael Bros, and when the robbers found no batteries in the car, they stole some out of a car owned by Richard Haynes, putting them in the Michael car .Citizens of Collegeville met and formed an association for the purpose of securig the services of a special officer to patrol the borough, a number of robberies have been committed there recently.

Wants All Teachers Residents of State.

The personnel of the teaching staff of Ambler and other schools in the county will be materially affected in the event of Jeremiah Miller's bill, presented to the Legislature, becoming a law. It forbids the employment, in a public position, of any character, of any person not a citizen of the state.

Practically all of the large school districts of the county and some of the minor districts were forced to secure as teachers persons from places outside of Pennsylvannia. If the proposed measure should become a law, it would mean that not one of these ployed.

The Miller bill provides that "it shall be unlawful for any county, city, borough, town, township, school district of the commonwealth to appoint to any public position or place of employment any person, unless such person shall be a citizen of the commonwealth."

Under the broad interpretation, it is stated that the bill is also applicable to municipal, county and other offices.

SAFETY AND SERVICE ATC

PERSONAL EXECUTORS vs. TRUST COMPANIES

There is no more important qualification for the ideal executor than absolute fidelity to the wishes of the person who makes the will. Heirs may become dissatisfied with its terms and bring pressure to bear upon the executor or trustee to modify them. If he is susceptible to influence, or likely to take the way of least resistance, the will may be compromised and the wishes of the testator disregarded

One of the important advantages of TrustCompany service is its freedom from bias and personal influence. When this Company acts as executor or trustee, there is absolutely no deviation from the testator's wishes, expressed or implied.

And our solicitor draws all wills free of charge where this company is named as trustee, executor or co-executor.
